'ROUND 'N' 'ROUND

If all the free publicity sent into a newspaper office in a year were piled end upon end, it would reach from here to yon.

Some firms employ publicity agents who make their stories real news stories... and of interest to the public.

Others employ worn out newspapermen who have no idea of news value.

As a result the office wastebasket is stuffed with "canned" news.

With all these "wee-wee" golf courses in existence, someone among the many operators is going to lose money.

Recently the owner of a certain course came crying to us that all he could possibly make on his course was $12 an hour.

Poor chap, only $12 an hour... it is sad, isn't it.

Pardon us while we brush a few tears away.

All of the modern poets with their blank verse and what have you will never replace in the hearts of American poetry lovers those favorite poets, Riley, Poe, Longfellow, and others.

Longfellow will always remain the best loved poet of America and the children. His Hiawatha, which all high school students study, is a selection that the children enjoy reading.

Riley and his "Barfooted Boy" and "The Old Man and Jim" are loved by all.

Another poet has a special appeal to the children is Eugene Fields. Who doesn't remember his "Little Boy Blue"?

Jeffers is a modern poet who has a nation-wide appeal. He is making his home at Sausalito. His visitors have grown so large that he has been forced to shut himself in.

California started its football practice yesterday. And it won't be long before the first game is played.

State motor policemen will go to school for two weeks, starting today.

One man from each county squad will be drawn to assemble with his classmates at Mather Field, Sacramento.

More than 50 officers are expected to attend the courses which will include first aid, study of the motor vehicle act, handling of traffic, drafting of reports, close order military drill, physical drill, jiu jitsu, etc.

The state police will soon be a close military organization that will compare favorably with the state police departments of other states of the nation.

The school will be directed by Inspector James J. Borree, head of the bureau of schools and education.

WIFE SEES FILM STAR DIE

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—UP—Within an hour or so after he completed a strenuous tennis match with his daughter at his Brentwood Heights home, Milton Sils, 48, noted screen actor, died of heart disease tonight.

Sils, apparently in excellent spirits and health when he went to the court in the late afternoon with his daughter Dorothy, 18, became ill while playing.

His present wife, Doris Kenyon, former screen actress, was watching the game from a window when she saw her husband suddenly drop his racket and motion to Dorothy. With his daughter, Sils entered the house and complained of violent heart pains.

Doctor Called

Dorothy ran next door for Dr. Edward Jones, the family physician, who was not at home. Another physician, Dr. Jack Steele, was summoned by Miss Kenyon.

Dr. Steele arrived at the home with a police patrol squad while Sils was still alive. Pulmotor and adrenalin treatments were given but failed to aid the actor who died within a few minutes.

Wed In 1926

Sils and Miss Kenyon were married in Oct. 1926, a short time after he was divorced by Gladys Edith Wynne whom he wed in London in 1910. Dorothy was a child of the first marriage.

Most of his work in silent pictures. His health began to fail about the time that talking pictures came to Hollywood.

The actor was a student of art and literature and in addition to his film work took part in a number of scholarly enterprises.

Gave Lectures

He frequently lectured at colleges and universities on screen art, literature and religion.

One of his lectures was delivered at the Harvard School of Business Administration in 1927.

Sils was a member of Delta Kappa Epsilon at Chicago university, the Lambda and a number of other organizations there and in Los Angeles.

Sils was counted as one of the most brilliant men on the screen. He was born in Chicago Jan. 12, 1882 and received his education in that city. He was graduated from the University of Chicago in the class of 1903 and held a fellowship there for two years.

Girl Held In Torture Act

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 15.—A revelation of how a pretty 19-year-old girl watched her two men companions beat and fatally injure John Marcelli, 72-year-old "hermit of Visitation valley" in an attempted robbery two weeks ago was made today by the girl, Josephine Mitchell, alias Greiner, who was taken into custody in Los Angeles.

The two men whom she asserts were the heaters of the aged man, are John Cusack, 22, of San Francisco, a feather-weight prize fighter, and Phillip Mangerene, 23, also of San Francisco, who is said by police to have confessed to the deed.

Cusack, police said, was identified in jail here this morning by several taxi-cab drivers as San Francisco's long hunted "taxi-bandid."

The girl told a tawdry story of the brutal beating administered the aged recluse by her two companions, in an attempt to make him reveal the hiding place of a rumored board of $9,000.

The fatal beating was administered on the morning of Sept. 3, Marcelli dying in a local hospital (Continued on Page 8)

CONTRACTS ARE HELD ILLEGAL

WASHINGTON, Sept. 15.—UP—Entry of a decree upholding the government in its Sherman law case against Standard Oil of California and 17 other west coast oil companies was announced here today by the Justice department.

Federal Judge St. Sure of San Francisco signed a consent decree restraining the oil firms involved from continuing alleged agreements fixing the retail price of gasoline in the five pacific coast states.

In its action, the government charged the six major west coast oil companies—Standard, Texas, General Petroleum, Richfield, Union and Associated Oil companies—contracted with independent firms to maintain retail prices. The "big six" agreed to buy from the independents all oil they could not sell at the price agreement was entered.

The decree declares illegal all the price contracts and enjoins the defendants from carrying out the conspiracy charged or any other of like character. It further restrains them from having any common understanding to eliminate competition in gasoline prices.

Gasoline sold at the Standard and Shell service stations in Richmond yesterday at 21 cents a gallon, the new price announced by the Standard Oil company on last Friday.

It was reported here, however, that a number of stations have not met the price change and are still retailing gasoline at the old price of 20 cents a gallon.

Whether or not these stations will increase their prices to the level set by the Standard is not known.

State Legislation In Freight Rates Urged

The California League of Municipalities will meet at Long Beach commencing Oct. 6th, and lasting for the week.

In this connection a communication was read from the league at the meeting of the city council last night in which the attention of the local body was drawn to the fact that the railroad have asked the railroad commission to increase the freight rates on petroleum products, and stated that one of the principal topics to come before the convention was the establishment of a public utilities bureau. Freight rates affect municipalities as cities use a great deal of oil products in their street work.

City Attorney T. M. Carlson suggested to the council that possibly at the convention, the cities would be asked to bear the expense of a public utilities bureau, and he did not think they should do it.

Carlson stated that the railroad commission acted in an executive and judicial capacity, and he thought some of this power should be taken from them. It was his idea that the cities insist on state legislation on such matters, and the expense of such inquiries should be borne by the state, as they concerned matters that affected almost every one.

City Will Enter Hospital Contract

FAKE LURES ALL POLICE AWAY

EVERETT, Wash., Sept. 15.—UP—Armed with sub-machine guns to enforce their commands, six bandits lined up 59 patrons and employees of the Citizens National bank here today and escaped with $20,000 in currency from the vault of the bank.

No shots were fired during the robbery and evidence that the whole job had been carefully planned was shown by the systematic manner in which the bandits worked.

Four of the men strode into the bank, leaving two to guard the entrance. They lined everyone against a wall and forced Frank Cooper, cashier, to open the vault.

The bandits returned to the bank, the big safe was opened, the money was taken out, and they ran to their car.

Identity of the robbers was concealed by saze masks and they were all attired in auto mechanic jumpers.

Shortly before the robbery, Everett police rushed to answer a fake riot call in another part of town, believed placed by the bandits as part of their plan to clear the way for the robbery.

It was the first time machine guns had been used in a north-west robber.

American Cup Defender Again Beats Lipton's Shamrock V

NEWPORT, R. I., Sept. 15.—UP—Harold S. Vanderbilt sailed his yacht Enterprise to victory by a margin of nine minutes and 34 seconds today over Sir Thomas Lipton's Shamrock and with the victory had established an impressive margin in favor of the American boat.

Enterprise now has won two races. It needs but two more to send the Shamrock back to England in defeat without the historic America's cup for which it challenged.

The margin of two races to none in favor of the Enterprise was only a portion of the advantage, for Vanderbilt, apparently demonstrated today that he was capable of meeting and defeating the challenging yacht and crew at almost any branch of racing.

On the start he out-jockeyed the green boat from the Royal Ulster Yacht club and its master, Capt. Edward Heard, getting such a start across the line that in ten minutes he was in position to cross the Shamrock's bows at any time he chose.

When he finally did cross the bows and Shamrock went to the opposite tack to escape the disadvantage of having the Enterprise on the windward, Vanderbilt followed and it didn't take long for him to demonstrate that he did not propose to let Shamrock get away for a moment.

The American skipper set great billows of sail and scudded before the wind, opening yard after yard of water between himself and the Britisher and on the final run home, despite difficulty in holding a light breeze for a time, the story was the same.

Far Behind
When the American boat sailed over the finish line amid the throaty blasts of a hundred yachts and power boats, the Shamrock could just barely be seen, almost two miles behind, her white sails all but merging invisibly into the gray bank of fog which slowly was creeping in.

The start of the race was made promptly at 11:40 a. m. Enterprise finished at 3:40:44 p. m. Shamrock 3:50:18.

The elapsed time of the Enterprise was 4 hours, 44 seconds; of the Shamrock, 4 hours, 10 minutes, 18 seconds. The margin of victory of the Enterprise, according to these official figures, was nine minutes 34 seconds.

At 11:40 a. m. the committee tug hoisted the racing signal and its whistle sounded. Enterprise shot straight over the line, Shamrock far behind.

Enterprise began the second maneuver—the first having been the jockeying at the start—which spelled defeat for Shamrock. Suddenly through glasses she could see his giant frame bend over the wheel, sails flutter and the boat came around to the opposite tack, according to the official record, the Shamrock's bows truly superbly yachting.

Safely to the windward of Shamrock, Vanderbilt once more bent to his wheels, his men slackened away on the lines and quickly the Enterprise was backing on the starboard tack, its towering spread of sail intervening between the wind and Shamrock's sail as effectively as though Shamrock were under the shelter of some towering cliff.

It was a bad place for Ned Heard and his British crew. For a few minutes both boats heeled far over as they fought for position. One could see the foam and spray breaking over their lee rails while the men on deck lay flat as far as they could down to the weather side—a measure taken to help balance the ship.

But Shamrock could not escape by that method and at 12:06 it came over to the port tack, hoping to get out of the clutches of the Enterprise. But the American yacht followed instantly. The move probably made it clear to Heard and his men on the Shamrock that they could not escape.

Sails Away
Vanderbilt then decided after such a demonstration that he did not need to remain at the Shamrock's side. He suddenly returned to the original track and sailed away, letting Heard and his men go where they would.

Enterprise headed straight for the 10-mile marker, a small buoy with a pennant floating above a big red ball at its top, and at 12:21:30 p. m. rounded it with only 12 feet to spare between ship and marker.

The moment the turn was made jib, staysail and jib topsails came fluttering down and out broke a giant balloon jib. Foam flew from the Enterprise bows as she shot away before the wind. In a moment staysail and jib-topsails were added.

Yacht Slow
Shamrock, if not already defeated, lost the race at the marker, for it pointed too close to the buoy and as it approached had the alternative of going away on another tack or drifting around the marker. Captain Heard chose the latter course and stood motionless in his white trousers and green sweater at the helm as his boat barely moved around the buoy.

At 12:27:20 p. m. Shamrock finally crawled around, but Enterprise, which had passed five minutes 50 seconds before, was a good mile ahead.

The Moitoza Fords returned from Rodeo Sunday afternoon in possession of a nine to five victory over the Rodeo nine.

Both teams presented a nice brand of baseball on the Rodeo diamond but the hitting of the locals succeeded in keeping them on top of the pile.

Syd Martin of the Fords again twirled a clever ball game Sunday, allowing but six hits, Martin also accounted for a four bagger, Gus Figueroa, Gray and Moitoza, all of the Moitoza nine, and Quill of Rodeo did well at home platter last week-end.

Local Players Enter Net Meet
Richmond will be represented in the mixed doubles event of the Pacific Coast tennis tournament Sept. 27, by Sylvia Seawright and Jack Murdoch and Helen Dunning and Irwin Sutton.

Sylvia Seawright is co-companion with Helen Dunning in the women's doubles.
James Hurley and Phil Carlin will represent Richmond in the junior singles.
Little more than two miles. At 2:22:25 p. m. Enterprise rounded this marker and set out for home with rig unchanged.

Breeze Dies
Shamrock was nine minutes, 10 seconds behind as it made the turn at 2:31:35 p. m.
The breeze died down and light fog rolled in. The Enterprise moved more slowly. Vanderbilt changed his sails to balloon and spinaker and for a while had a staysail stuck in between so his ship looked like a great puffy cloud as it sailed along lightly. Shamrock followed the lead of Enterprise and put up a spinaker. But all it got was the small consolation of keeping the Enterprise from adding more than a minute to its lead on the final leg.

More and more the fog closed in. Shamrock, from a position opposite the Enterprise, could barely be seen, far back.
The sight seeing Armada, sensing that the race had been over for an hour and that fog was a grave danger in those crowded waters turned for home and was under full headway when Enterprise came bowling across the finish line, her crew already bringing down the sails.

Shamrock sailed in more than nine minutes later and s'd quietly away to her anchorage—defeat the lead of Vanderbilt's boat as it sailed and out-sailed.

"WE GOT BUT 35 MEN ON THE SQUAD... WE MUST DO THE BEST WE CAN..."

LARGE SQUAD TURNS OUT FOR GROUND PRACTICE AT CALIFORNIA

BERKELEY, Sept. 15.—The largest turnout of varsity and freshman football material since the fabulous days of the Vanderbilt team will greet the University of California coaching staff this afternoon on Southwest practice field. The combined squads of candidates will number nearly 200 men.

Only the coaches and a few privileged witnesses will see the Golden Bears in their first organized drill. Right restrictions will be in force at the field throughout the week. The first public view of the 1930 varsity will be on Monday, September 22, five short days before the opening game with Santa Clara on September 27, when the student body of the University will hold the first of a series of weekly bleacher rallies.

Coach C. M. "Nibs" Price is faced with a difficult problem in the "openers." He has a wealth of excellent but untried material which must be developed rapidly to face the strenuous competition of the season. Price has already preferred to meet an initial opponent of less power and experience than the Broncos in order to experiment with his candidates. The situation demands experimentation, and he will probably put a considerable number of his men to the test in the first game.

The Broncos are avowedly "pointing for California." California cannot afford to lose sight of the opponents of the first game, Saturday: Washington State, St. Mary's, the Olympic Club, and Washington at Seattle. Material must be developed for these games and for the two major contests of the second half of the schedule, Southern California and Stanford. Most of the men on this year's roster are starting on an equal basis as far as experience is concerned. Thirteen lettermen of the sixteen on hand earned their first letters last season. What is more important is that many of them played chiefly as substitutes. Some of the men who will probably play together as regulars this year have never been on the field in the same varsity combination.

The Bear backfield material offers a good key to the general situation. Ed Griffiths, heavy halfback of 1929, will be shifted to Lee Eisan's place at quarter. He played regularly only during the later games of the schedule. McCutcheon, a leading candidate, has had no varsity experience; Ed Kilman, another letterman, called signals in a few games last season, and a fourth candidate, piloted the third string.

mever will vie for Roy Riegels' place at center. Medanich is probably superior to Eickmeyer in defensive play, but Eickmeyer's passes are better than his rival's in precision. In general there is little to choose between them, although Eickmeyer probably has a slight edge. There are no other center candidates with more than "Good" or "freshman" experience.

Following is the Bear's schedule:
Sept. 27—Santa Clara, Berkeley.
Oct. 4—Washington State at Berkeley.
Oct. 11—St. Mary's at Berkeley.
Oct. 18—Olympic Club, Berkeley.
Oct. 25—Washington at Seattle.
Nov. 1—Montana, Berkeley.
Nov. 8—Southern California at Los Angeles.
Nov. 15—Nevada, Berkeley.
Nov. 22—Stanford, Berkeley.

The new coach, who is athletic director at the Longfellow Junior high school, is enthusiastic over this year's team, and said Sunday that he expects to have a team that will run like clock-work when it gets into condition.

Don Bradley, manager of the squad, said last night that he will have a game for the team a week from Sunday, probably with the Castro Parlor Native Sons of the Golden West of San Francisco.

The Richmond Legionnaires defeated Castro Parlor last year by a decisive score, and with this year's team said to be better than the 1929 aggregation, it is probable Richmond will start off the 1930 season with a win.

The suits have been passed out and the coach has announced that if the fellows in possession of equipment do not show up at practices regularly, they will be asked to turn in the suits.

About 25 players were present at Sunday's practice which was devoted entirely to working out plays in preparation for the game Sept. 28.

Game Between Fords, I. O. O. F. Set For Sunday

Baseball fans of Richmond will at last be granted their supreme desire—that of seeing the Moitoza Fords and the Richmond Odd Fellows tangle on a local diamond.

These two outstanding teams of this district will go into action next Sunday afternoon on the San Pablo lot at 2:30 o'clock.

Next week-end's clash should offer baseball enthusiasts to the local baseball enthusiasts. Both teams concerned in the game possess high standings among the ball clubs of this district.

The Odd Fellows are the 1930 champions of the Richmond City Twilight league, and have brought defeat to almost every local ball club. The Moitoza Fords have yet to suffer their first defeat of the present season.

ODD FELLOWS SPLIT TWO GAMES

The Odd Fellows nine of Richmond trounced the Native Sons by a score of 5 to 4 Sunday afternoon to win the gold baseballs and cup donated by the Mechanics Bank to the winner of the 1930 Richmond City Twilight league.

In the afternoon game, the Richmond Odd Fellows went down to a 15 to 11 defeat before the Fern Candy store nine of Oakland.

The score was tied in the last inning of the City League contest. Carl Pinto then tapped out the bingle that brought in the lone man on base, thereby winning the battle.

Johnny Babich of the Odd Fellows and John Cabral of the Native Sons hurled stellar ball Sunday, each allowing nine hits.

In the afternoon game, the Odd Fellows outlit the visitors, but their fielding was not too excellent. Both Carl Kamb of the locals and Tharp of the Oakland team were not at their best on the San Pablo mound Sunday. Kamb allowed 16 hits, while Tharp was nipped for 20.

RICHMOND CLUB ENTERTAINED AT PROGRAM HERE

An entertaining program was presented by the civic section of the Richmond club yesterday in the Richmond clubhouse with Mrs. H. Lincoln as chairman of the afternoon.

Miss Helen Kendall, Girl Scout leader of Berkeley, told of the new class which is to be organized for Girl Scout leadership. The first class is to be held Friday evening at 7 o'clock in Memorial hall and is being welcomed as a real work in that field has been called. Miss Kendall asked for volunteers in the Scout leadership work. Many prominent club women have announced their interest and have pledged their support in that field.

Hall Sanders, Richmond attorney, was also an interesting speaker on yesterday's program. He discussed the amendments and main issues which are to appear on November's ballot.

Student life in Paris, and a humorous travelogue of interesting points in the great French capital, were presented in a delightful way by Miss Ruth Bradbury who spent a year as an art student at the University of Paris.

Tea served by Mrs. Clifford Bowman and Mrs. H. V. Alvarado closed an enjoyable session.

Plans were completed for the fashion show and bridge whist which is to be held Thursday afternoon at the Richmond clubhouse.

"Three Wise Wives" is the three act play which will be presented Oct. 7 under the auspices of the club. Mrs. Zella Chapin is directing the presentation and tickets are now on sale by members of the club.

She was attended by her sister, Mrs. Constance Johnson, whose gown was of pink satin, also long with the fullness coming below the hips. A huge orchid satin bow was draped on one side at the hip and a smaller bow adorned her picture hat. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

MANSLAUGHTER
NOW PLAYING AT THE FOX

In "Manslaughter," the Fox-California theatre feature for today and tomorrow, Paramount has brought together three of the biggest personalities the stage has given to talking pictures. They are George Abbott, the director, Claudette Colbert and Frederic March. Each of them has contributed an excellent piece of work to the Alice Duer Miller story, which since its first appearance in 1922, has become a best seller novel of all time.

"Manslaughter" is a story of a wealthy girl, careless and thoughtlessly selfish. When she falls in love with the serious-minded and ambitious young district attorney, she resists his pleas of her mode of life. Then tragedy overtakes her madcap career and she faces a term in prison, with the district attorney fighting against her. Her love turns to hate when she finds all her wealth and influence, her beauty and her will are unable to save her from justice.

In prison she finds a ruthless system among people who recognize no social distinctions. Sullen at first, she learns the true bitterness of isolation. Then she becomes more friendly and finds life easier. Freed from prison, her one thought is revenge against the district attorney, but when she meets him, her petty vengeance lacks flavor and she realizes she loves him.

"Manslaughter" is a tensely gripping story. Exciting aqua-plane racing; partial homes of the wealthy; a thrilling shocking automobile accident; a dramatic court trial; a riot in the women's prison such as the scenes that make up its swiftly moving drama. And Claudette Colbert, as the willful capricious heroine, is magnificent all the way through.

Abbott was famous on Broadway before he ever entered moving pictures. Only last season he directed and acted in the Broadway production of his own play, "Those We Love," and he has put on the screen such truly thrilling pictures as "Moran" and Mack's "Why Bring That Up?"

Miss Colbert was one of Broadway's headliners. She has been seen in "The Lady Lies," "The Big Pond" and "Young Man of Manhattan" on the screen. Frederic March was seen in several David Belasco, Theatre Guild and William A. Brady productions before he began his eleven Paramount successes.

WASHINGTON.—The common wood tick, which sometimes is found with its head buried in the human body and sucking blood is charged by the Agriculture Department with carrying two dangerous diseases.

Proof has not been obtained, but the department said the wood tick was suspected of carrying rabbit fever, or tularemia and endemic typhus fever.

The department suggested ticks in the country wear high topped shoes and lace trousers or leggings as protection against the pest.

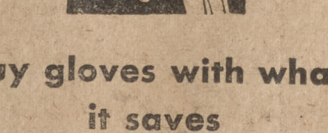

If bitten by a tick, disinfect the bite with an antiseptic, the department said.

School For Police Will Start Today

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 15.—F. G. Snook, chief of the Division of Motor Vehicles announced today that the California Highway Patrol Training School would resume classes next Tuesday at Mather Field, near Sacramento.

Approximately fifty inspectors, captains and patrolmen will attend the school, an arrangement having been worked out to draw from one to four men from twenty county squads so that traffic law enforcement will not be crippled during the training period.

The school will have the benefit of barracks, mess hall, showers and other facilities at the government flying field at Mather Field, the War Department having extended the state's privileges in the use of the field free of charge.

The period of instruction will be two weeks. At its conclusion the men will be ordered back to their respective squads and another group will be called until the entire personnel of the patrol has received the course of instruction.

The school will be directed by Inspector James J. Borrell, head of the bureau of schools and education.

The instruction given will be devoted almost entirely to subjects related to the actual work of the officers on the highways. This will include handling of traffic, first aid, study of the motor vehicle act, drafting of reports, etc.

A short period will be devoted daily to physical drill, jiu jitsu and close order military drill.

As in previous classes, Snook said courtesy to the motoring public would be stressed.

"It is our purpose to continue these classes until all our men have at least a preliminary course of instruction," said Snook.

The men will be drawn in numbers from counties as follows: Alameda 2; Contra Costa 2; Fresno 3; Imperial 3; Kern 3; Marin 1; Merced 1; Monterey 2; Orange 4; Riverside 3; Sacramento 2; San Bernardino 2; San Diego 4; San Mateo 2; Santa Clara 2; San Joaquin 2; Solano 2; Tulare 2; Ventura 1.

FLINT SLAYER MUST DIE ON GALLOWS

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—UP—Frank D. Keaton, middle-aged real estate man, must hang at San Quentin prison for the courtroom murder of Morley Flint, prominent Los Angeles banker, here last July.

Superior Judge R. Roy Schauer sentenced Keaton to death. In a brief hearing of the slayer's recent guilty plea Judge Schauer agreed with the verdict of a jury of six men and six women that Keaton was sane at the time of the killing.

"After walking through the city with a gun which he said he intended to have cleaned, Keaton ferreted out the courtroom where Flint was appearing as a witness," Judge Schauer said. "He fired three times at Flint and then, realizing his act, tossed the gun and raised his hands. This was evidence of sanity."

Keaton Mumm Keaton stood before the judge with his eyes closed as sentence was pronounced. He whispered short answers to routine questions asked by the courtroom reporter. There was no demonstration on his part when he heard the words which would send him to the gallows. Mrs. Keaton, however, started to sob and was assisted from court. Two small children of the couple were not present.

Keaton's attorneys, who based their entire case on the sanity issue, immediately filed oral notice of appeal from the sentence and from the verdict which found the slayer was not insane.

Judge Schauer ordered that the sentence be carried out sometime within 60 and 90 days.

Sain In Court

Flint, a brother of the late F. Flint, United States senator, was killed by Keaton as he rose from the witness chair after testifying in a minor civil suit between a motion picture producer and a bank of which he once was vice-president.

Keaton made no effort to deny his act. He surrendered meekly and told officers that he blamed Flint as an influential banker for allowing the stock market depression in which he lost the bulk of his savings. He also said that he felt Flint was partly responsible for the collapse of the Julian Petroleum corporation in which thousands of small investors were wiped out. Keaton, however, admitted he lost no money in Julian stock.

Flint was frequently mentioned in connection with the Julian case but a few weeks before his death a usury charge against him in connection with loans to a Julian pool were dismissed for lack of evidence.

Open Safety Pin Is Swallowed By Baby

BERKELEY, Sept. 15.—After long and careful research work into the habits of babies, mothers have finally come to the conclusion that the majority of their young offspring will, upon no provocation whatsoever, put any thing they find on the floor into their mouths, always considering that the object is small enough.

The latest addition to mother's books, entitled "What My Baby Did," has been contributed by Betty Jean Andereggen, 11 months old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. Andereggen, 2102 California street, who, as babies have a proven habit of doing, swallowed an open safety pin yesterday.

Mrs. Andereggen, horrified, saw the little miss pop the bachelors' helpmate into her mouth, just too late to stop her from swallowing it.

She immediately rushed the baby to the Alta Bates hospital where X-ray photos revealed the pin nestling in Betty's tummy.

At the hospital this morning Miss Betty, hardly surveyed the ceiling of the hospital from her cot, counted her pink toes over several times and then howled lustily for breakfast. That off her mind, she calmly rolled over and went to sleep, quite oblivious of the interest her case has aroused.

In the meanwhile physicians are standing ready to perform an emergency operation, should the open pin stick Betty.

CRYING SISTER MURDERED BY WOMAN

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—UP—Mrs. Ruth B. Weimer, 38, who shot her sister, Mrs. Mabel Agnes Steele, 30, because "she cried too much" was arraigned today on a charge of murder.

Municipal Judge Bailey S. Statford ordered Mrs. Weimer held without bail for preliminary hearing on September 19.

"She continually cried 'I wish I were dead,'" Mrs. Weimer told detectives after the killing Sunday night. "Finally I could stand it no longer and shot her."

Mrs. Steele, it was learned, was taken to a state mental hospital for observation after she attempted suicide a year ago. When she was released last August she learned her husband had disappeared with two of her three children.

According to Mrs. Weimer, her sister "was continually moaning about her troubles."

"I thought it was better this way," Mrs. Weimer said. "I am only sorry that I was unable to kill myself."

A man boarder at the Weimer home, where both women resided, disarmed her after she fired two revolver shots at herself but missed.

GIRL HELD IN TORTURE PLOT

two days later, reiterating to the end that he had no money hidden.

Car Found

An automobile containing two men and a woman was seen to stop in front of the house on this date, and an hour after they left the hermit was found battered and bleeding, tied to a chair. A potato masher, shovel handle and a rolling pin were found, covered with blood, and the shack had been literally wrecked in the bandits' attempt to find the "hidden treasure."

The only clue that police had to work on was offered by neighbors, who said the automobile driven by the bandits had tires with white sides.

A car answering this description was finally located in a rental agency, inquiry revealing it had been rented to John Cusack Sept. 3. His record was looked up and a long series of arrest was found, including a record that he and Mangerene had been arrested in August for heating a street car conductor.

Confession Told

Mangerene was arrested first, and after a short grilling is said by police to have confessed, naming Cusack and the girl as his companions.

According to his alleged story to police he and Cusack had heard the recuse had $900 hidden in his cabin. They took the girl along to alleviate suspicion, he said.

Mangerene, according to police, declared Cusack administered the fatal beating while he and the girl looked on.

Charges Denied

Cusack, when arrested, denied the charges, calling Mangerene's confession a "pack of lies."

He offered police the alibi he had been in Sacramento all day Sept. 3, but his mother contradicted this, declaring he had not been out more than a few hours at a time for several weeks. She said he had lost several teeth and had injured his jaw in his last fight and she had been treating him.

The girl was arrested in Los Angeles at the request of local authorities, readily admitting her part in the crime, police say.

Fire Destroys Tool House Here

A fire that occurred in the toolhouse and office of the Jasper Stacy Construction company at the Richmond waterfront yesterday caused damages estimated at amounting to $800. Tools and cables were destroyed, but valuable records were saved by the fire department.

The call was answered by engines No. 2 and No. 4 of the Richmond fire department. The blaze was extinguished in four and one-half minutes after the department arrived.

Sparks from a forge being operated near the toolhouse are believed to have started the fire.

Babe Drowns As Mother Faints

OAKLAND, Sept. 15.—UP—A mother fainted here today while giving her baby a bath and the infant was drowned. Mrs. Roland B. Oliver fainted while bathing her three-month old child, and the baby's head fell under the water. A fire department inhalator squad worked for more than an hour to restore life.

3 CHILDREN DIE OF FOOD POISONING

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 15.—UP—With three of the four children they sacrificed to feed, dead from peptomatine poisoning, Robert E. Lowe and his wife were so crushed by grief tonight they were unable to be at the hospital where a fourth child is believed to be dying.

The parents were cared for by a physician and friends in their cottage in Moneta, a suburb of Los Angeles.

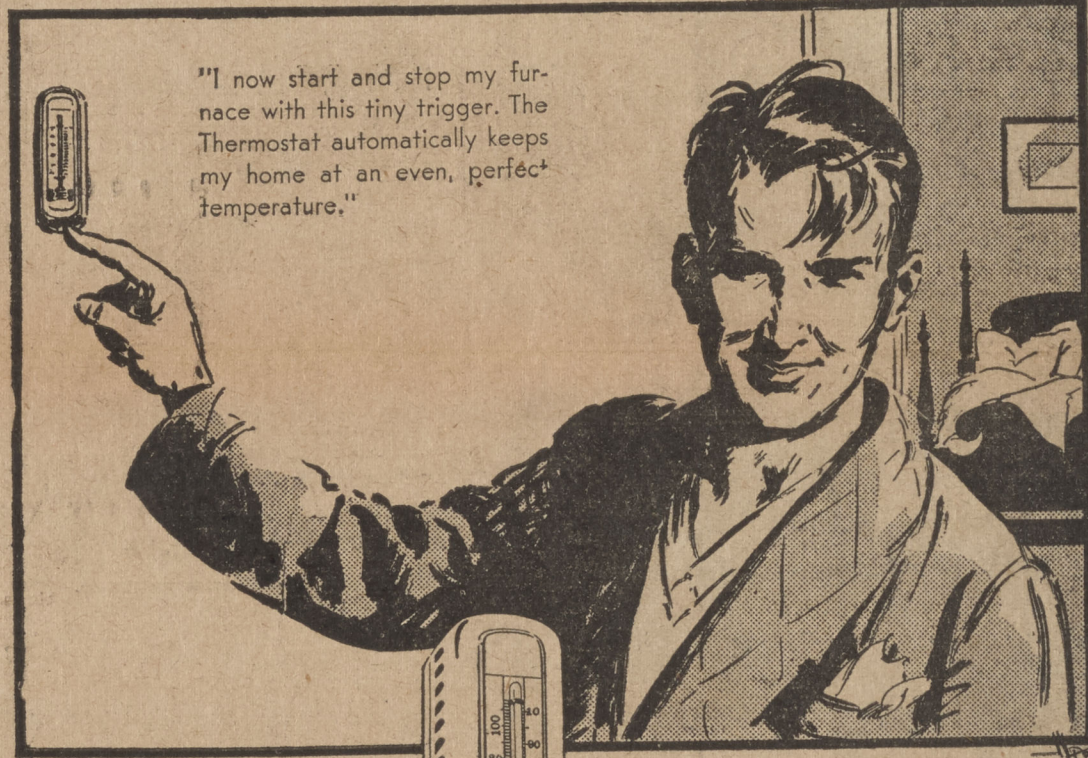

Three of the Lowe children, Betty, 5; Virginia, 3; and John 13-months, died Sunday night after Lowe had spent his last money to buy them some bread goat's milk and several cans of berries and meats. Lois, seven years old, was near death in general hospital.

Authorities who investigated the case said that Lowe had been out of work for weeks and that he and his wife, with three older children, ate nothing last night in order that the smaller members of the family might not suffer.

The organs of the dead children and samples of the food will be given to County Chemist R. J. Abernathy for analysis.

GOODBYE furnace drudgery here's clean heat automatically

Change your present furnace

"I now start and stop my furnace with this tiny trigger. The Thermostat automatically keeps my home at an even, perfect temperature."

Natural Gas costs less to use

Have you ever awakened in the chilly morning and wished for quick warmth for an hour or so? No doubt you have. But too often you have denied yourself this comfort because of the trouble of starting a fire.

With Natural Gas, however, a finger's touch brings you quick heat.

And the happy news is—we can easily change your present furnace to burn Natural Gas. We simply install the silent Occidental Conversion Burner in the firebox of your furnace. We mount a Thermostat on the wall of your living-room.

Then you say, "Goodbye forever to furnace drudgery."

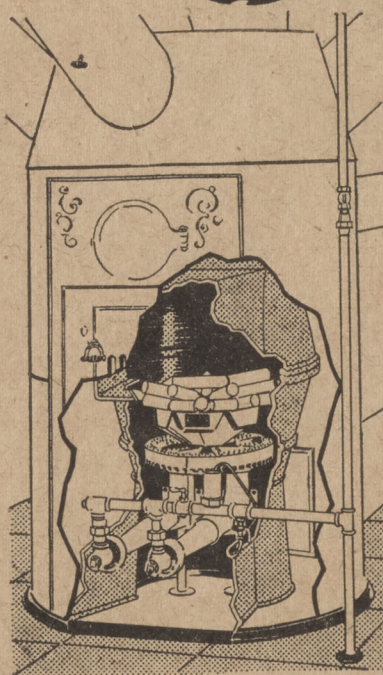

Your curtains, wall-paper, and even the exterior of your home stay clean. For Natural Gas is the cleanest fuel. There is no dirt or soot.

In addition, it is perfectly safe and healthful to use Natural Gas. All the burnt gases go outdoors through the chimney just as the smoke does from your present fire. The pure, warm air which heats your home does not come in contact with the burning gases. The air passes around the hot outside of the iron firebox.

Before we install an Occidental Conversion Burner, we inspect your furnace to make certain there are no cracks in the firebox or worn out parts which will interfere with proper operation.

6,500 Satisfied Users

Since this Spring over 6,500 of our customers have chosen Occidental Conversion Burners. We will be pleased to furnish you with names of users so that you may communicate with them and
